

CalendarShare

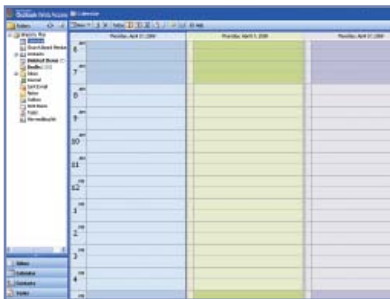

View Multiple Calendars Side-By-Side

Side by Side Calendars and OWA Delegates

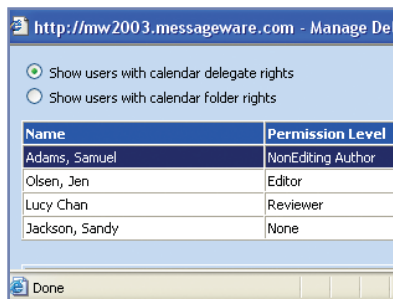

CalendarShare gives OWA users the ability to view multiple calendars side by side, making it easier to schedule meetings or manage resources. Delegate access gives users the ability to set delegate access for permissions to calendars from within Outlook Web Access. For example, while a manager is on the road, he can give his assistant permission to create, edit or send appointments on his behalf. CalendarShare also follows delegate permissions that users set in Outlook to allow others to view, edit or manage calendars on their behalf.

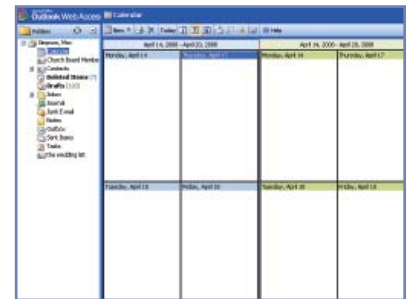

Features

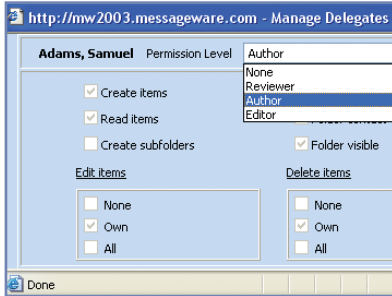

Schedule meetings or book resources at-a-glance with side by side shared calendar views

Delegate other users to view and manage calendars on your behalf

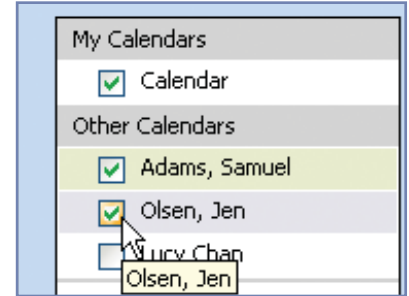

View side by side shared calendars in Day, Week or Month mode

Enable users to set permission levels for public and private appointments

Users can send a message informing delegates of their permissions

Users can open shared and personal calendars with one click
